Obtaining Documentation

The following sections provide sources for obtaining documentation from Cisco Systems.

World Wide Web

The most current Cisco documentation is available on the World Wide Web at <http://www.cisco.com>. Translated documentation can be accessed at http://www.cisco.com/public/countries_languages.shtml.

Documentation CD-ROM

Cisco documentation and additional literature are available on a Cisco Documentation CD, which ships with your product. The Cisco Documentation CD is updated monthly and might be more current than printed documentation. You can order the Cisco Documentation CD as a single unit or as an annual subscription, as described in the section “Ordering Documentation.”

Printing Release Notes

To print Cisco IOS release notes, use your browser to navigate to the desired release note. Click the PDF file icon in the top, upper-right corner. From the File drop-down menu, choose Print.

Ordering Documentation

Cisco documentation—such as hardware installation guides, quick start guides, and configuration and command reference manuals—is available in the following ways:

- If you are a Registered Cisco Direct Customer (that is, a registered user on www.cisco.com), you can order one or more hard copies of Cisco product documentation from the Networking Products MarketPlace at the following URL:

http://www.cisco.com/cgi-bin/order/order_root.pl

- Registered Cisco Direct Customers can order the Documentation CD (product number DOC-CONDOCCD=) through the online Subscription Store at the following URL:

<http://www.cisco.com/go/subscription>

- If you are not a Registered Cisco Direct Customer (that is, not a registered user on www.cisco.com), you can order hard copies of Cisco Product documentation through a local account representative by calling Cisco Worldwide Sales at 800553-NETS(6387).

For assistance with ordering, contact your distributor or see the Cisco Technical Assistance Center website at <http://www.cisco.com/tac>.

Documentation Feedback

To submit comments regarding the online-only availability of Cisco IOS release notes and caveat documents on Cisco.com and the Documentation CD-ROM, use the Release Notes Survey at <http://www.cisco.com/cgi-bin/useability/UCD/rnsurvey.cgi>.

You can e-mail comments concerning Cisco IOS release notes and caveat documents to relnote-feedback@cisco.com. You can also send your comments to the following address:
